

The published Shipping Occurrences Report July - December 2023 contains two inaccuracies. On page 43 of the report, there is a paragraph about a sunken inland ship in Belgium.

The paragraph states that the media reported that the vessel was skewed at an angle the day before the incident. This text suggests that there were problems with the vessel. However, investigations now completed in Belgium have found there were no problems with the stability and integrity of the vessel.

In addition, the text states that the vessel was sailing without valid papers. This is incorrect, the ship did have the correct certificates.

The text of the Shipping Accidents Report July - December 2023 on the website has been modified in response to these inaccuracies.
